To whom it may concern

I am writing in support of the project for community ownership of the old buildings at the head of Inchree.

A lot of discussion has been undertaken by the Association regarding the uses which this property can be put to which would encompass various activities in the village and also involve the residents in the Inchree area so that they are kept fully apprised as to how the proposal is going ahead and are not excluded in any decision making.

To have new life breathed into these old buildings is an exciting step and we look forward to being able to be involved as individuals in the proposed future plans for them. I feel this project has brought together the nearby residents and will now offer the wider community a better understanding of what can be done with the properties and the immediate area.

Yours sincerely

Ann Marie
